Ogden and Salt Lake Bowlers May Meet For Side Bet.

There is now some talk of getting up a match game between Salt Lake and Ogden bowlers for a side bet of about $25. Twice picked teams representing these two towns have met, and each one has a victory to its credit. The expenses of a game between the teams representing these two towns will amount to nearly this much on account of the railroad fares and hotel bills, and the local bowlers think that a side bet covering these expenses would be worth playing for. Manager Goddard of the Salt Lake City team is now corresponding with Manager Fleshner of the Ogden bowlets, with hopes of arranging a game on this basis.

Since the Salisbury team defeated the Brunswick aggregation, a week ago, the latter are anxious for a return game. The Salisbury crowd say they are willing to meet the lower Main street crowd at any time and in all probability a game will be arranged for this week.

California is peculiarly fitted to give all that nature can give in this direction. To the newcomer the environment is so strange and so striking that it claims the undivided attention. Everywhere and all the time there is something strange or interesting to see.

Of climatic conditions the invalid has a wide range from which to choose: In elevation, from about 300 feet below sea level to 6,000 or 7,000 above; in humidity, from the moist sea breezes of the coast to the dry, invigorating air of the inland mountain ranges; in temperature, from the almost perpetual summer of the southern part of the state to the more severe, though not unpleasant, climate of the proper Sierras.

POLICE BEGIN MAKING THEIR MONTHLY COLLECTION OF FINES FROM GAMBLERS

Police Sergeant Hempel, official collector for Chief Paul, has begun his monthly collection of fines from the gamblers who operate in the city. The last collection was made early in December, but it has been decided that remittances must be made to the city regularly each month to guarantee protection from the police authorities.

In his rounds last night Serseant Hempel arrested four men, who gave the fictitious names of "George Coffin," "Pat Kelly," "John Long" and "Tom Brown," "Coffin" and "Long" were charged with conducting a gambling house and were placed under bonds of $100 each. The other two were charged with gambling and deposited the sum of $25 each. All were able to produce the required amount and were at once released from custody.

None of the officers admitted that he knew where the gambling house was located, but declared that a strict surveillance must be kept on their operations. No offer of resistance was made by the men when they were taken under arrest, and they readily accompanied the officer to headquarters. Arriving there, the formality of asking their names and ages was observed by the desk sergeant. The affair was accepted in a graceful and matter of fact way by the gamblers, while the arresting officer entertained his guests with jokes during their brief visit to Chief Paul's collection agency.

The other two were charged with gambling and deposited the sum of $25 each. All were able to produce the required amount and were at once released from custody.

As the heads of departments are the same, with the exception of the sheriff, as those who have heid the positions for the past two years, it is more than probable that the deputies who served last term will be reappointed although there are other applicants; but it is nor thought likely the heads of departments desire to make any changes. The deputies have given satisfactory services and the principals seem to be actuated by the same spirit of good will and appreciation that moved the convention to renominate them, and will, therefore, give their assistants an additional two-years term.
